Families with young children enjoy Montclair Art Museum's Park Bench, a program that introduces children to the Museum and serves as an artistic social outing. Parents and caregivers with infants, children in strollers, as well as nursery through elementary age children are welcome. Get acquainted with others while enjoying coffee, bagels, and juice. Work on developmentally appropriate creative art projects with experienced early childhood educator Angela Frasco. Take a guided tour of the exhibits with an art educator. Gather in the galleries for storytelling courtesy of the Montclair Public Library, and listen to translations in French, courtesy of FIAF. In August, we will be going to the Van Vleck Gardens for a special outing!
